THE FOUR SEASONS

Madison, New Jersey

The Senior Class Presents

THE MITRE — 1957

His Excellency
Most Reverend
Thomas A. Boland, S.T.D.
Archbishop of Newark

With the founding of Bayley-Ellard, Archbishop Boland introduced to Morris County the first Catholic Regional High School in New Jersey. Thus he provided for many of us an opportunity for education not only in the essentials of scholastic training, but in the all-important religious aspects as well.

The students of Bayley-Ellard will always recall with respect and affection this beloved founder of our school.

His Excellency
Most Reverend
James A. McNulty, D.D.
Bishop of Paterson

Our cordial and fervent Bishop directs with a wise hand our spiritual and scholastic life. He has shown a special interest in us at Bayley-Ellard not only because of his deep concern for Catholic youth, but particularly because we belong to one of his diocesan high schools. We express our gratitude to him for his beneficence to us.

VERY REVEREND MONSIGNOR DENIS H. HAYES
Director of Bayley-Ellard High School
Diocesan Superintendent of Schools
Pastor of Saint Cecilia's, Rockaway

A man endowed with versatile interests, an administrator gifted with a gentle integrity, but above all—a priest imbued with humble devotion to duty, who encourages us to use the facilities offered us by our parents through the diocese to the best possible advantage of our moral, social, and scholastic life.

DIRECTOR

Sister Irene Margaret, S.C.
Principal

In our principal we find a truly ideal leader of youth. Quiet but firm, far-seeing yet alive to the present, she is at all times and in innumerable ways our inspiration. From the greenest freshman to the most outstanding senior, each student feels himself the object of her warm, personal interest. Gentle and attentive, she is ever ready to give an ear to a troubled student, and her wise counsel has helped many of us through perplexing situations. We shall always cherish and be ever grateful for her vital interest in our life at Bayley-Ellard.

DEDICATION

Because it was you, our parents, who through the four seasons of many years, gave to us through your love, guidance, patience, and understanding those memorable intangibles which could be bestowed on us by you alone, we wish to offer to you this recognition of our appreciation.

The four seasons serve as a manifestation of these—your special gifts to us. The crackling autumn bonfire signifies the warmth of your love; the winter snowstorm, building out of diminutive flakes architecture unsurpassed, reminds us of the guidance which, in the form of little suggestions, has built out of us men and women; the first robin of spring, persistant in his renewed daily efforts for survival, personifies your patience so constantly possessed; the sleeping green fields of summer are to us the quiet and understanding we received through each season.

Thus, as our theme is so commensurate with our gratitude, we, the Class of '57, dedicate to you, Our Parents, this EIGHTH EDITION OF THE BAYLEY-ELLARD MITRE.

FOREWORD

The time we spent here at Bayley-Ellard in the halls, in the classrooms, and on the court, made up of weeks, months, and years, merges into a kaleidoscopic pattern of high school life. Because these four years seem to us as one, we have divided The Mitre into the four seasons of the year, representing the four classes in the school.

Autumn's russet hues recall freshmen initiation, Halloween dances, Student Council elections, and the senior trip to Washington.

The blue, bleak tones of winter and the stark loveliness of our snow-covered campus cannot smother the warmth radiated by cheering crowds at basketball games, carefree couples at dances, and the profound introspection of retreat time.

The crack of the bat and the singing of Marian hymns announce spring at Bayley-Ellard as similarly as does the vivid green of our fresh-leaved trees and carpet-like lawns.

The golden elegance of summer heralds the long awaited and yet sad-to-experience day of graduation. With class night, the arrival of The Mitre, and the graduation dance behind us, we treasure the memories of this blend of color and classes.

This is our life at Bayley-Ellard—a life composed of the ever-changing panorama of the four seasons.

This is Our Life in

Fall's russet hues ushered in a completely new phase of life for each of us. Only the brilliant foliage of our campus rivaled our excitement as we saw it for the first time. This was a period of discovery—when even the ordinary took on an aura of newness. The splendor of the autumnal crispness exhilarated our spirits. We were living only in the present, for the future seemed a vague and misty shadow in the face of the glory of Fall.

While the eyes and the ears of the nation were turned toward the 1956 Presidential race, Bayley was also in the midst of an important campaign. The ingredients — promises, bellowing music, catchy slogans, campaign gimmicks, twelve good candidates, and confusion! Mix well and you have a slightly muddled voter striving to make a right and wise choice. To the victors—President Larry Allocco, Vice-President Linda Thurston, Secretary-Treasurer Carol Dorsi—went the serious job of guiding our Student Council through the next year.

As we went to the polls on a crisp autumn day we were getting our first taste of democracy in action. During the year, as we saw our homeroom representatives speak for us at the Friday afternoon meetings, we became vitally aware of this great principle upon which our country is founded.

We also learned through our Student Council that to reap the privileges of democracy we must share its duties and responsibilities. The Council sponsored dances, skating parties, and intramural sports, which we suggested through our Representatives. In turn we were asked to support and cooperate with the Council in its various worthwhile projects. One of the most beneficial of these was the organization of a Corridor Patrol. The Council's numerous clean-up campaigns met with success, for our pride in the beautiful school grounds was an incentive to spirited participation. Hoping to initiate a tradition, this year's Council compiled a handbook of information, on school rules, traditions, and activities which will help to orientate Freshmen and serve as a guide to the general student body. Both in theory and in practice we feel that our Student Council was a manifestation of 1957's strong school spirit.

SODALITY OFFICERS

Seated: Sister Anne Marie, Moderator; Burke McAteer, Treasurer; Greg English, Prefect; Sally Scully, Vice-Prefect; Toni Murphy, Secretary.

The Sodality

In our four years at Bayley we participated in many activities which advanced our development as mature and worthwhile persons. In this new-found maturity, however, we now realize that no activity was so satisfying as Our Lady's Sodality—for the Sodality is a way of life. We felt its influence in every phase of student life at Bayley. Its spirit will remain with us always.

The Sodality was personal with each of us, for its aim is to attain sanctification through devotion to Mary. Guiding us in our continuous efforts at self-improvement was our director, Sister Anne Marie. The Central Council, Gregory English, Prefect; Sally Scully, Vice-Prefect; Antoinette Murphy, Secretary; and Burke McAteer, Treasurer; planned and conducted the activities of the Sodality.

One of the prime duties of the Central Council was to maintain a proper balance of activity among all branches of the Sodality apostolate and to coordinate the various activities of the Sodality. Realizing that Sodalists have duties to others as well as themselves, we all backed the Mission Committee in its projects. The Eucharistic Committee by preparing the altar for First Friday Mass, and Our Lady's Committee by reciting the Rosary over the P.A. system in October and May, contributed much to our religious life at Bayley. The Social Life Committee saw that the Sodality was not forgotten in time of recreation and amusement. The great success of the many affairs planned by this committee can be attributed in part to the Publicity Committee which labored to advertise all the projects of these Sodality committees.

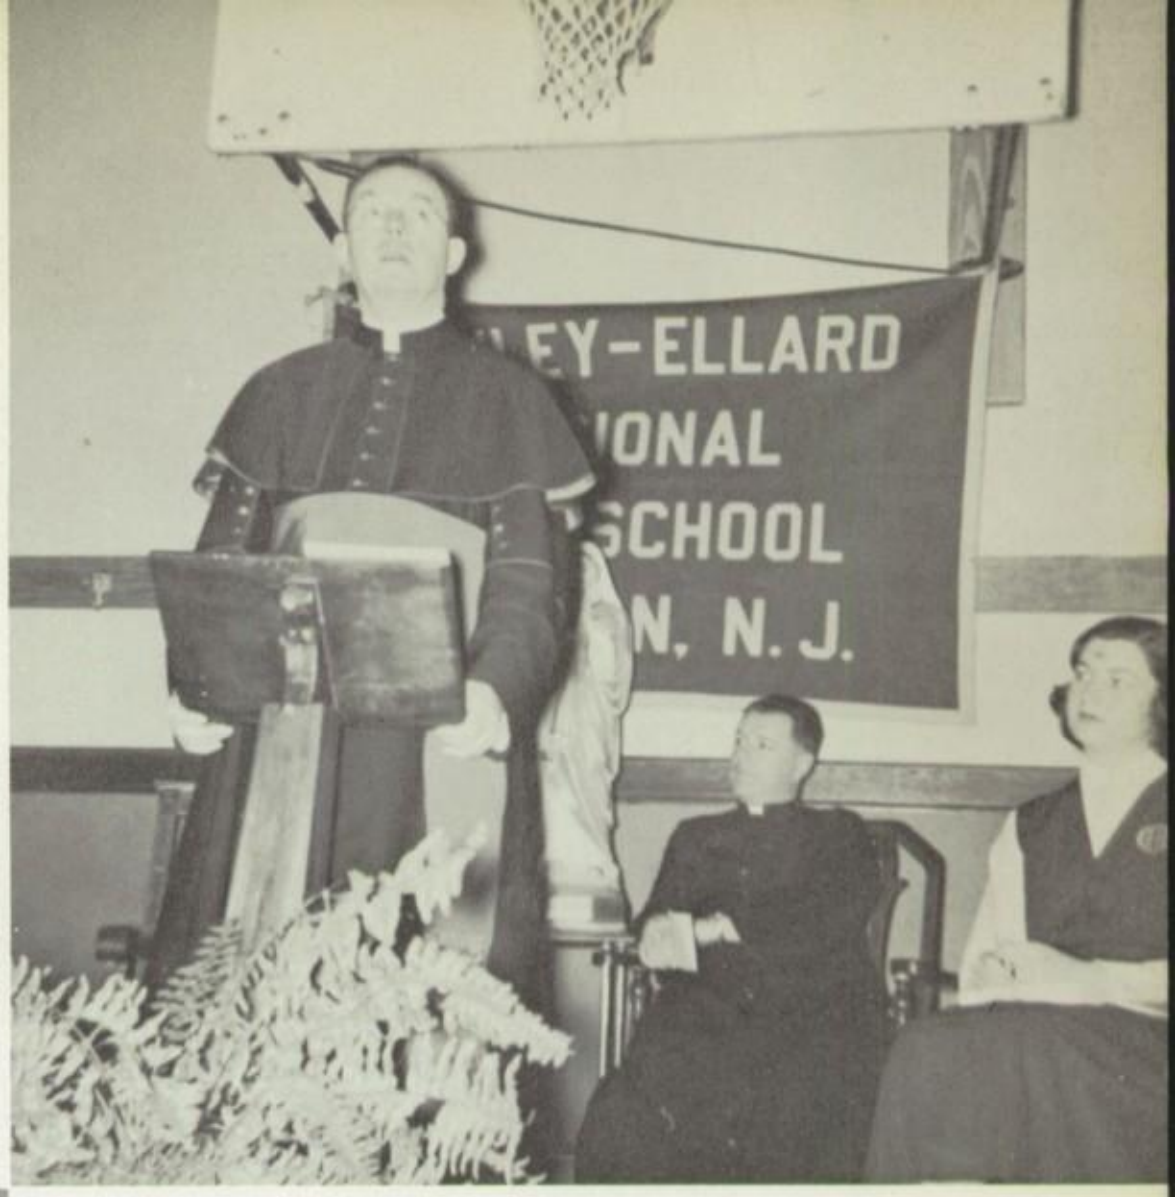
Joan Richardson, a Bayley alumna, describes the busy life of a postulant.

Monsignor Scully, Director of Vocations in the Paterson Diocese, opens the Sodality's annual Vocation Rally.



Father Leo Fanning, a member of the Vocation Committee, addresses the Sodalists.

A simple, forceful talk on the activities of his life as an aspirant to the priesthood was presented by Denis Dever, last year's Sodality Prefect.

Camera Club

Ed Pizzi holds the attention of Neil Noonan, Miss Sims, and John Haritoonian with a talk on amateur photography.

The Freshman-Sophomore Camera Club meets every Tuesday to further knowledge and appreciation of amateur photography. The club has become very interested in candid and family shots. Another special interest is shown in the general enjoyment of colored slides. The members discuss their own snapshots and visit photography exhibitions in the area.

Library Club

Under the leadership of Sister Anne Lucille, the Library Club enjoyed the most successful year in its history. The Book Fair, the first major project of the club, proved highly successful to both the Library and its patrons. Another undertaking of the club was the cataloguing in the new library workroom in the school basement. This room enables the staff to prepare books for general use more efficiently.

Don Bosco Club

The Don Bosco Club, organized under the direction of Sister Anthony Marie, has aimed to awaken in its members an active interest in the foreign missions. During the weekly meetings, the boys watched movies showing the extent of the work of our Catholic missionaries in lands afar. At various times, they listened to the recordings of noted movie stars speaking in the defense of their Catholic faith, and they also visited a number of seminaries to observe the particular works of the various religious orders.

Red Cross Club

Sister Helen Joseph, moderator of the Red Cross Club, directs the activities of a group of freshmen in helping others through various thoughtful acts of kindness. The boys and girls made favors for the patients at Lyons Veterans Hospital for Thanksgiving, and wrapped packages at Christmas to mail to the boys on the high seas. The most greatly appreciated act of charity was the caroling at St. Anne's Villa for the sisters who would otherwise be unable to hear these joyous songs.

Marie Citro, Terry McGhee and Meg Crane watch approvingly as the freshman go through "London Bridge."

These freshmen, led by Paul DeLucca and Richard Garreffa, seem to be plotting revenge.

Initiation

"Your subdued servant secretes the solemn seal of silence to say, 'Salutations, most supreme, sage and superior Seniors!'" These unforgettable words set the tone for October 16, 1956, the day on which the traditional initiation of the freshmen by the seniors was held. The football field, main scene of the action, was thickly dotted wih small groups of freshmen being monitored by two or three seniors through such classics as "London Bridge" and "Ring Around The Rosy." It was not unusual to see several freshmen brandishing toy guns and rushing en masse across the field, while others were on their knees in the dust dutifully singing the Alma Mater, and still others were hard at work washing cars in the parking lot. This organized bedlam lasted for two hours. It was finally terminated in a session of Senior Court, where freshmen guilty of misdemeanors during the preceeding activities were punished with such imposing sentences as eating "worms" and pushing peanuts across the field. Thus ended the hazing of the class of '60, a class which earned the admiration of all for its good sportsmanship during initiation.

Vic DeGhett and Charles Neuhart are admirably performing their duties in the line of car-washing. Don't forget those hubcaps!

Wow, look at that shine! Ed Borkowski, Kathleen Burke, Pat Tonry, and Joe Scaffiddi deserve congratulations for their fine job.

Seniors Don Terreri and Pete Hassinger grin gleefully as Maureen Dolan, Ann Marie Bogen, and Gail Brennan eat "worms" to atone for their offense.

Mr. Russo and Jan Terrell don't seem to be taking the gun-twirling antics of Carol Gero, Edna Burns, Pat Masi, and Karen Hennessy too seriously.

At the conclusion of the day's activities, the freshmen lick lollipops while awaiting the Student Court to begin session.

In case you didn't recognize them, that's, L. to R.: Maureen Flanagan as Bing, Alice Brightbill as Grace, and Mary Myles as Frank.

Kathy Brady and Andre Possamato just stepped out of the Roaring Twenties.

It was not an uncommon sight to see a ragged hobo cutting a mean jitterbug with a weird witch in Bayley's gym on October 27, 1956, the night of the "Skeleton Swing."

Large numbers of the student body attended this annual Masquerade dance, Bayley's most colorful Fall event.

An evening of fun and dancing was climaxed by the awarding of the costume prizes to "The Kentucky Hills Family" as the Most Entertaining, and to the "High Society" trio as the Most Original.

Senior Trip

Filled with the enjoyment of the unexpected, to us the Senior Trip proved to be a most fabulous one.

For a first appearance Bayley-Ellard students made an unforgettable entrance into the Nation's Capitol, with their own police escort. After touring the F.B.I. Building the students checked in at their hotels, ate dinner, and started out on a night itinerary. Coming back to the hotels around eleven, we were more than willing to retire.

We rose Saturday morning to find it raining outside, but this far from dampended our spirits. After breakfast we resumed our tour, roaring through the streets of Washington with our police escort from the Mellon Art Gallery to the Capitol to the White House, and on to the Franciscan Monastery.

With Sunday came a day of sunshine, blue skys, and a trip into the heart of Dixie to see Mount Vernon, and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. But as always, all good things must come to an end, so back to Washington for lunch and the northward trip home.

Versatile Mr. Sebelle couldn't resist trying out the motorcycle.

Sun. 11:00 A.M.—A moment of seriousness out of the general routine of the trip is the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

Sun. 8:30 A.M. — As buses pull away from the Immaculate Conception Shrine, Bayley students get a good look at what their donations each year are doing.

Washington sleeps here.

Patricia Francis, Patricia Santoro, Jo-Ann Moccerino, Ann Cullen, and Jean Cocoma display empty plates and happy faces.

Sun. 8:00 P.M.—Sr. Irene welcomes back the happy but weary wanderers.

Varsity Cheering

Resplendent in brand new spanking-white uniforms, the Varsity cheering squad brimmed over with infectious good spirits at all of this season's games and pep rallies. Reviving us when our spirits were low, exulting with us when they were high, the cheerleaders, with their sparkling personalities, added immeasurably to the color and excitement of Bayley's basketball games.

Junior Varsity Cheering

Bayley's other energy-packed squad, the Junior Varsity cheerleaders, had an extremely active season this winter. Their schedule was two-fold—to cheer at the J.V. boys' games, as well as at the girls' basketball games. They carried out both duties with a boundless enthusiasm and energy which was both appreciated by the teams and the student body.

The J.V. Cheerleaders cheer the team on to victory.

This is Our Life in

The blue-bleak beauty of Winter soon overcame the showy gorgeousness of our lawns in Fall. Naked trees proclaimed in their mute magnificence the chill starkness of the ground. But our spirit was soaring—warmth and vitality permeated school activities. Life became more settled as we learned to accept and to seek acceptance — the frivolousness was gone, but heady exuberance remained. Just as the novel was becoming routine, we looked out and found that silently-swirling snowflakes had blanketed our campus—making it a still, indescribably lovely winter wonderland.

Christmas Pageant

The entire cast assembles on stage for the finale.

The adoration of the Magi completes the Christmas Story.

In St. Joseph's Hall at St. Elizabeth's College, the Bayley-Ellard Senior Class of 1957 brought to life once more the beautiful Christmas Pageant. With the harmonious voices of the Glee Club providing the background, the story of the Nativity unfolded in ten colorful and stirring scenes. Preceding each tableau a descriptive narration from the Gospels was given alternately by two Senior girls. The play commenced with the portrayal of the joyous Annunciation and came to a grand finale with the arrival of the Magi in Bethlehem. The performance came to a fitting close with the entire cast singing "O Holy Night."

Tom Doyle welcomes the audience to the 1956 production of the Christmas Pageant.

As the play progresses, an impressive Nativity tableau captivates the attention of the audience.

Ring Ceremony

The class of 1958 received their school rings at an impressive ceremony on Thursday, February 14, in the school gymnasium. After singing the Star-Spangled Banner, they were honored by having Monsignor Denis A. Hayes, the school director, on hand to bless their rings. Sister Irene Margaret explained the symbolism of the Bayley-Ellard rings after they had been distributed by the class moderators. Combined, the symbols form a ring which binds us in love and loyalty to Bayley-Ellard and which commissions us to emulate the Christian principles which it represents. The ring is a constant reminder of the ideals for which we should strive, and the qualifications of character and scholarship which a Bayley-Ellard student is called upon to exhibit in his daily life.

Following the ceremony the juniors sang a chorus of the Alma Mater, another symbol of the spirit that is a part of Bayley. Refreshments and dancing came next to bring to a close this happy occasion. In the years to come the rings will serve to remind the members of the class of '58 of cherished memories of happy days here at Bayley.

hanging from ladders in order to get that Paris sky just right. Basketball nets disappeared to be deftly replaced with clever posters and a striped canopy. Slowly but surely, the scene began to unfold, and the evening finally arrived. This season, which was not a year for the record book, nevertheless proved successful as Pat Russo became the new mentor at Bayley-Ellard. Though the team compiled a four win-fourteen loss record, it developed in experience and confidence as the season progressed.

As the season began, we played St. John's Paterson. Despite a large send-off by the student body, the team fell short and lost a heartbreaking game 52-66. After losing to a strong five from Our Lady of the Valley, we entered the tournament in Paterson and lost a tense game to St. Bonaventure's 56-61 in the closing minutes. The Christmas holidays didn't prove a complete failure as the Bishops downed a strong Alumni, 74-62. Our next victory was against Netcong in their home court where Don Terreri, co-captain, set a record for the gym with 32 points as we won 65-59.

After losing several tense games, the season wound up in great style with double wins. On February 22, in a traditionally action packed game, the Bishops achieved an exciting victory over Mountain Lakes 62-60 in a game which was nerve-wracking down to the final buzzer. In the closing game of the season, the Bishops overwhelmed St. Bonaventure's to avenge two earlier defeats by the score of 88-67. It was in this game that Don Terreri proved his ability by scoring 53 points and winding up a star-studded year as one of the top scorers in the county.

Although the team will miss the playmaking of co-captain Larry Allocco, the split second accuracy of Don Terreri, and the steadiness of Bill Tyler, nevertheless we have talent developing in Jim Ahern, Frank Dooling, and "Shrimp" Giordano all of whom will be starters next year along with Mike Kopas and Bob Kelly.

The JV's compiled a 4-10 record and showed promise with such talent as Louis Trombaco, Don Emilian and Jack Kopas.

Queen's Civic and Mission Club

One of Bayley's most active groups, the Queen's Civics and Mission Club, has very successfully carried out its motto, "Help all those in need," this year. Under Sister Elma's direction, the club gathered cartons of toys from the student body for orphans at Christmas. Its members have been making favors for hospital trays for major holidays, as well as collecting stamps and clothing for foreign missions. The many grateful letters from the receivers of these gifts testify to the wonderful work the members are doing.

Debating Club

The Debating Club in its initial year, under the patient direction of Sister Elizabeth Miriam, brought fame to Bayley-Ellard. Having done much research on the National debating topic, they applied their pugnacious spirits to heated discussions at Morristown High, Dover High, Seton Hall and Georgian Court.

Refreshments and a Latin atmosphere—no wonder students who occupy Room 103—Tuesday afternoons at Club Period—are glad they joined the "Circulus Intimus." Food for thought in the guise of songs in Latin, and brain-twisting Latin puzzles is also served up during all club sessions. A trip to Mount Saint Dominic's Academy to see some intriguing miniatures of Roman ruins was a February project for the members.

Math Club

The purpose of the Seat of Wisdom Math Club is to further interest in higher mathematics and, judging from the enthusiastic activity in Sister Agnes Mary's room, this purpose has more than been accomplished. Through learning to use the slide rule, working out geometric designs, and learning to draw to scale, the club members' knowledge and appreciation of mathematics grew. Preparing for the Science Fair was one of the Math Club's most absorbing projects.

Gerry McEvoy looks to the referee to determine her decision.

Sally Scully struggles over the ball as Jan Terrell looks to the coach for a sign of encouragement and the rest of the team look on in amazement.

The girls' basketball team, with Mrs. Helen Hartford at the helm and Sister Assumpta Mary as moderator, attained new laurels on the court this season. Their team spirit, and dogged determination to win helped them to reach this goal. Paced by co-captain Gerry McEvoy, and ably assisted by Irene Kivlen and Maria Evers, the girls compiled an enviable six win-four loss record. Captain Ann Sheridan, Nona Magher and Jan Terrell did an admirable task of guarding their opponents.

Though the team will lose six starters through graduation, Coach Hartford has some prospective talent in Ann Lafferty, Maureen Semple, Mary Fran Sullivan, Kathleen Flanagan, Carol Zibura, and Arlene Terreri.

Maria Evers in full control of the situation prepares to score again.

This is Our Life in

Spring, unbelievable in its lush vivid greeness, came upon us suddenly, incredibly, magically. As we gazed from our classrooms on her fresh beauty, she enchanted us and beguiled us, lulled us, and charmed us. Our campus was painfully lovely to behold—spirit and pride knew no bounds as we viewed resplendent Spring—"trailing clouds of glory." But this was no time for lethargy. We had plans to make, a destiny to fulfill. We anticipated the impending future while we lived in ethereal, ephemeral Spring.

Science Fair

The Seventh Annual Science Fair was held Sunday, May 5 in our gymnasium. Combined with Open House, this affair attracted a great number of interested spectators. Over two hundred exhibits prepared by the students in mathematics, physics, biology, and chemistry were on display.

Judges for the Science Fair included: Doctor and Mrs. J. Townley, of Townley and Townley Research and Consulting; John Wright, chemistry teacher at Summit High School; J. Slates, senior research chemist at Merck, Sharpe and Dohme; Sister M. Carmel of the biology department of Caldwell College; Sister Margaret Mary of the biology department of Marylawn of the Oranges; Thomas Crowley of Bell Telephone Laboratories; and J. Crozier of Monroe Calculating Machine Company.

First place winner in each category were as follows: Mathematics, Patricia Haggerty for an exhibit in non-Euchlidean geometry; Physics, Daniel Mahon for a field emission electron microscope; Biology, Frances Langley for an exhibit on the development of the chick embryo; and Chemistry, Patricia Koplitz and Katherine Brady for an exhibit on paper chromatography of steroids.

Anne McCabe prepares her experiment on Tissue Culture.

Patricia Koplitz and Kathy Brady—First Prize winners in Chemistry with their project on Paper Chromotography.

Sister M. Walter, O.P. and Msgr. Hayes inquire of Marilyn Kelly the nature of the rocks in Rockaway.

Sally Scully explains her project on Hypoxia to Frances McManus.

Tom Loughman doesn't want his father to miss his prize-winning ribbon.

Baseball

This years' nine, captained by Paul Keyes at the "keystone sack," promises to be one of the best ever fielded by the Bishops. With the talent of seniors Larry Allocco, Don Maietta and Don Terreri and the experience of underclassmen Mike Kopas, Bernie Galderie, Gene Haggerty and Frank Dooling, Coach Russo has the makings of an aggressive team. Backed by a strong bench, the Bishops are aiming to better the 11-6 record of last season.

Band

The Bayley-Ellard band, a new venture this year, has proved to be very successful. Members meet every Saturday and rehearse under the direction of Mr. John Torick. If everything goes as planned, the band will be adding much excitement to Bayley's football games next year.

Glee Club

Having participated in the Christmas Pageant, the girls of the Glee Club are now preparing for their Spring Concert. The Spring Concert, the first venture of this type for the Glee Club, will enable the members to exhibit their skill in a variety of music. Songs from Broadway shows, old favorites, and selections in a religious theme will make up the program. The Glee Club may well be proud of their accomplishments.

President ..... Carmela Nigro
Vice-President ..... Maureen Semple
Secretary ..... Maria Newe

Father Fanning takes over from his pianist Carmela Nigro as she joins fellow Glee Club members Maureen Semple and Maria Newe in a song.

French Club

French atmosphere prevails in room 203 when Sister Mary Edmund and her active French Club get together. To broaden their knowledge of French, the members participate in many activities, including the study of French music, history, and culture. Their current plans center around French dramatization and a tea with all the trimmings. These activities have served to take the student beyond the scope of the classroom.

"Seventh Heaven"

Spring in the air—a moon riding high—just enough nip in the breeze to give sparkle to the occasion—we'll never forget our Junior Prom at Mayfair Farms. Donald Terreri, our Junior Class President, crowned Mary Therese Nazzaro as Queen of our "Seventh Heaven." Amid swirling skirts, we waltzed, bunny-hopped, and attempted Latin-American steps to the varying rhythms of Al Padova and his orchestra. A midnight supper climaxed this romantic evening—our "Seventh Heaven."

A Day At Bayley

Mike and Larry take a few minutes out from their chores.

Time out to eat!

Seniors, Sophie Fornaro and Fred Bingham, discuss their future plans with Mrs. Koplitz, the Guidance Counselor.

A typical morning in the office for Sister Irene and Mrs. Corbett.

A study period.

The spirit is willing ..... but the flesh is weak.

As afternoons merged into evenings frustrated silence seemed to be the recurrent atmosphere in our newly acquired yearbook room. Our muses had taken flight to view the seasonal slendors of Bayley's campus, often leaving us without the necessary inspiration. The task before us seemed insurmountable--to capture in words and pictures the essence of a class and the spirit of a school.

Thus we approached work on The Mitre with an understandable feeling of apprehension. However, under the tactful direction and guidance of Sister Patricia Mary, our task soon became a pleasure and eagerness was an adequate substitute for literary skill. All those who worked on the various Mitre staffs have an extra measure of pride and respect for this book, the fitting culmination of four years of achievement at Bayley-Ellard.

This is Our Life in

The enticing charm of Spring soon merged into the golden dignity of summer. It was with a new outlook that we viewed our verdant campus—for we were soon to leave it. Never before had its stately loveliness been so fully appreciated. This was a time of contradictions—of joy and of tears; of anticipations and of reminiscences. With contagious emotion we passed through Bayley's wrought iron gates for the last time into the enveloping warm maturity of Summer.
